Lucy Hale Has An Entire Drawer Just for Face Masks

BY MADISON FELLER MAR 19, 2018

GETTY IMAGES

Lucy Hale knows a thing or two about switching up her look. After spending seven years playing the eccentric Aria on the drama-thriller Pretty Little Liars, she's now found herself stepping into some pretty different roles. Soon enough, we'll get to see her as Olivia in the new horror movie Truth or Dare, and she's starring as Stella in a new comedy-drama, Life Sentence, where she plays a woman who's just found out she's beat terminal cancer.

We recently chatted with Hale while she was promoting Degree's Black+White deodorant, which works to prevent sweat stains and white marks on, you guessed it, black and white clothing. "Degree was looking for someone who already rewears items because the whole purpose of this deodorant is that it doesn't leave the marks that makes us not want to rewear our favorite clothes," Hale said.

We chatted more with Hale on her face mask obsession, skin care must-haves, and what she learned sitting in the Pretty Little Liars makeup chair.

Are there any beauty secrets you picked up from being on the set of PLL?

MORE FROM
BEAUTY SECRETS

Beauty Secrets I Learned From En Rossum

Beauty Rules I Learned From Blac

IT'S SO NICE TO BE AT THAT AGE WHEN YOU FEEL COMFORTABLE IN YOUR OWN SKIN.

You mentioned you love skincare. What are your top three must-have items?

Bioderma Micellar Water. I have this iS Clinical Serum that's called Active Serum which, I don't know what it does, but it just sort of protects you when you're traveling and just from life in general. And then there's this toner that I guess has been around for a really long time by Biologique Recherche. It's the P50 lotion that is notorious for smelling really weird. It smells like fennel, so I get really weird about wearing it, but it's pretty magical. It's from some European country. It's hard to find, even hard to find online. I can't find it in LA; I can only find it New York. I think a place called Rescue Spa sells all their stuff.

I was just looking at their Instagram yesterday!

You have to go there anyway because it's amazing. 100 percent. There's this girl, Diana; I've only been twice but usually what I do is I walk in and tell them my needs and concerns and just let them do whatever.

Shop Lucy Hale's Must-Haves

Tatcha Violet-C Radiance Mask, $68; sephora.com

SHOP

Elizavecca Milky Piggy Carbonated Bubble Clay Mask, $10; amazon.com

SHOP

Holika Holika Baby Pet Magic Mask Sheet, $24;

amazon.com SHOP

Bioderma Sensibio H2O Micellar Water, $11;

amazon.com SHOP

iS Clinical Active Serum, $93; walmart.com

SHOP

Biologique Recherche Lotion P50; rescuespa.com

SHOP