

Secrets de Biologique Recherche

16 JUN

There are those days where my skin is dry and dull from travelling, long nights, not eating right and getting too much sun.

There are those days where I am desperately reaching for my beloved Biologique Recherche products, knowing that these will be my savior and make my skin look radiant, glowing, healthy and juvenile again.

Just a few days ago, I had one of those moments, so yet again it is time to tell you everything about my favorite Biologique Recherche beauty products that I cannot live without.

Start with a deep cleanse

The Eau Micellaire Biosensible is a cleansing micellar water that instantly captures impurities and traces of makeup, soothes irritated skin and tones the epidermis. This gentle formula respects the physiological balance and hydrolipidic film of sensitive skin. If you are looking for a quick makeup removal option, this is the perfect product for you.

Boost and renew

Lotion Alpha Kérato-Régulatrice is a facial booster that combines purifying, exfoliating, moisturising and toning. All help to rebuild the epidermal barrier. The fruit acids transform the skin's texture and reduce skin imperfections linked to the female cycle. Use this powerful lotion for a smoother and brighter skin. It improves the hydration level of your skin significantly.

Give yourself a treat

The Masque Visolastine E, moisturises and softens the epidermis. It cleanses the pores without drying or causing an uncomfortable tightening sensation and helps reduce the signs of ageing in the skin. The mask contains purifying agents of white clay, essential fatty acids, marine elastin and cellular oligopeptide that nourish and regenerate. It is an extremely moisturising and re-lipidating masque that is best for dry, devitalised skin such as mine.

Open your eyes

The Crème Contour des Yeux Biosensible protects the epidermal system to reduce the signs of skin sensitivity. It is hypoallergenic and combines four actions: It inhibits inflammatory reaction and smoothes fine lines caused by dehydration. It also helps the skin to protect itself against stress and lastly it improves the skin's microcirculation, which reduces dark circles and restores the clarity and brightness of the eyes. For bright and awake eyes even after a number of stressful days!

This Protection U.V. is my daily savior on vacation! It is 100% natural and protects the epidermis from the harmful effects of the entire spectrum of solar wavelengths. When you need protection from the sun quite regularly, an all natural cream is the only way you can protect your skin while keeping the epidermis in balance. The rich, soothing and moisturising formula also helps protect against photoaging and dehydration. It gives a Sun Protection Factor (SPF) of 25, the perfect balance for tanned, yet protected skin. And the best thing is it is even photostable and water-resistant.

Tan and protect

Brighten it up

Serum PIGM 400 contains six concentrated active ingredients that prevent the appearance of dark spots. It fights free radicals and offers photoprotection to defend the skin against sunlight and slow skin ageing. This brightening serum can be used all over the face to give an overall brightness or localised if you have particular areas needing pigmentation care. This is your savior if you tend to get dark circles from not sleeping enough.
