YOUR BEAUTY

Must-have skincare products

I am addicted to facials and explore the most up-to-date spas in all my travels. When in Paris, I never miss an opportunity to make an appointment at Biologique Recherche, which is the the best brand for everything including hair care, in my opinion. In London, I go to the White Room on Walton Street which offers Valmont treatments under the great care of owner Annette, herself an enlightened design fan. I am also a member of Grace Belgravia, London's best women's club, where I love Japanese massages from the fantastic Mikiko or facials from Ziggie Bergman.
