The iconic resort is better than ever after a major renovation.

The One&Only's public areas have been spruced, too. The new Club One features a fitness center with a yoga pavilion and a revamped spa where guests can pamper themselves in one of 13 treatment rooms with therapies by French skincare brand Biologique Recherche and pedicure prodigy Bastien Gonzalez.

Four new restaurants include Tapaske, a Pan-Asian tapas venue perched on stilts over the lagoon; Prime, which focuses on regional beef and fresh seafood and produce; lunch spot La Terrasse, with an open kitchen and local dishes; and the beachside La Pointe.

Beyond the on-site culinary offerings, foodies are encouraged to forage for their own fresh meals, whether on a market excursion led by executive chef Marc de Passorio or a deep-sea fishing adventure with a local diver. Guests can bring their day's catch or market picks back to the resort for a fresh dish prepared by de Passorio for a Mauritian meal to remember.
