

Lucy Hale tells us her highlighting secrets and which cult beauty product she bought just for herself

Monica Schipper/Getty Images / Anna Buckley

MARIE LODI

March 02, 2018 8:45 am

Ad closed

Report

AdCh

Not only is Lucy Hale one of our favorite actresses (we can't wait for Life Sentence to fill the Pretty Little Liars-sized hole in our heart), but she's someone we consider a beauty icon. So many of our hair inspo pics are lifted right from her Instagram and taken straight to our hairstylists. Whether it's a bold red lip or a neutral eyeshadow, Hale can rock almost any makeup look, so we trust any advice she gives us for our own beauty looks.

To celebrate Avon's new True Color Glow Collection products, we got to chat with the Avon Brand Ambassador about highlighting, her perfect brows, and the cult beauty product she just treated herself to. If you're wondering, yes, her skin looks just as flawless in real life. Lucky for us, Hale was nice enough to give us the lowdown on her skin care routine.

HelloGiggles: I have great memories tied to Avon from childhood. Did you as well?

Lucy Hale: I definitely do. I remember my grandmother used to wear this red Avon lipstick. That was like her thing. I don't think I ever saw her without her red lipstick on. She could do it without a mirror and everything. That's my first memory of makeup in general. It just so happens to be Avon.

Afficher le profil sur Instagram

677,624 mentions J'aime

lucyhale Little man is so sleepy today

afficher les 1,819 commentaires

IL Y A 5 MOIS

HG: For fun, what's the last thing you bought online?

LH: The last thing I bought actually, was this facial serum by Biologique Recherche. It's the P50 toner. It's a game-changer. It smells horrible, but you put it on before your moisturizer morning and night and it just does something to everyone's skin. I know it smells bad, but it works, so I bought like three of them, because it's very hard to find. ❤️