Biologique Recherche Does It Again!

As some of you may know, I am a big fan of Biologique Recherche products, and they just came out with a fabulous new dry body oil that I have been lathering on, night after night, ever since I got back from Bermuda. After being in the sun for five days, Huile Benefique sure came in handy. It's a year-round dry oil that heals dry skin and helps to even out your skin tone, and it can also be used on your hair and your face, to keep your skin soft and glowing!

Huile Benefique blends botanical oils and extracts to nourish your skin, keeping it healthy and hydrated at all times, and it's super rich but not greasy—I love that about this oil. This is one of those “must have it in my beauty cabinet all year-round” products. And speaking of a keeper, Biologique Recherche also came out with one of the best eye-makeup removers. Because Dr. Philippe Allouche knows that the skin around the eyes is five times thinner than other skin, he developed an eye-makeup remover that works effectively even on the most delicate areas around the eyes. Scientifically engineered and developed, Solution Demaquillante pour les Yeux removes makeup (even waterproof products!) while restoring and soothing the skin. It's hypoallergenic, it's non-greasy, and it doesn't sting. Now that brings tears to my eyes. Bravo, Dr. Allouche!
